FAQs

How are services billed?

When you sign up, your first invoice is pro-rated until the end of the month. After that, services are billed as monthly subscriptions that renew on the first day of each month.

Is a long-term contract required?

No, our services are billed on a monthly basis with no long-term contract requirement, and you are free to cancel their subscription at any time. However, we do offer a 10% discount (excluding setup fee) if you purchase a one-year subscription.

Are there any setup fees?

There is a one-time setup fee of $399. This includes the creation of a Roku channel and providing a link to your Website.

What are the main differences between each package?

"Express" is a low-cost alternative focused on live streaming only (no VOD), but with robust features such as full HD, embeddable player, mobile viewing and social sharing. "Plus" is a complete solution including live steaming, VOD, player customization, and SmartTV viewing with your own custom Roku channel app available at no extra cost. "Enterprise" is oriented towards broadcasters looking to integrate our platform features into their own existing workflow.

What do the Optional Add-Ons mean?

Most customers have requirements that fit into one of our pre-defined packages, which already include their own bandwidth/storage quotas. However, in some cases additional bandwidth or storage may be required. These can be added as On-Demand or Reserved resources, with no long-term commitment and without being forced to move to a different package.

What is the difference between Bandwidth and Storage?

Your account uses resources to stream content to end-viewers. Bandwidth represents the amount of data that flows from our platform to end-viewers during content playback. Storage represents the amount of data that your content requires to be saved in our platform.

Can I purchase additional Bandwidth or Storage?

Yes, additional bandwidth or storage can be either combined or purchased separately depending on your requirements, without limitations.

What do "On-Demand" and "Reserved" mean?

For bandwidth or storage, you can choose to order monthly additional resources without committing to any specific usage level (On-Demand), or by committing to a certain minimum (Reserved). Reserved resources benefit from significantly lower pricing, and the commitment only applies to a monthly period, meaning that you can upgrade, downgrade, or even cancel the requested add-ons without restrictions after 30 days of usage.

Are there additional costs for the OTT channel? (Roku or Android TV)

No, your own custom branded channel is included at no additional cost as part of our service and one-time setup fee.
